On behalf of JDRF, please accept our appreciation for your donation in support of diabetes research. Enclosed is an official tax receipt PM00217768 for the amount of $1,000.00 dated September 30, 2013 for your records.

JDRF's mission is to find a cure for type 1 diabetes (T1D) and its complications through the support of research. JDRF is continuing to deliver on this goal through the JDRF Canadian Clinical Trial Network (JDRF CCTN). Created in partnership with the Government of Canada in 2009, funding for the JDRF CCTN came from a commitment of $20 million by the Federal Economic Development Agency for Southern Ontario with an additional $13.9 million contribution from JDRF Canada. The $33.9 million investment is helping bring new technologies and treatments to the marketplace so that Canadians living with the disease and its complications are among the first to benefit from the latest research. To date, JDRF has not only met but far exceeded the deliverables outlined in this partnership with seeds of a network infrastructure in Southern Ontario now firmly established. These significant achievements are shining examples of how your support is helping us achieve incredible progress and make a positive difference in the lives of over 300,000 Canadians living with T1D. But there is still work to be done.

JDRF continues to make great strides in helping to develop drugs and therapeutics, and accelerate the pace of research while working towards a cure. As a result of these and many other scientific advances, people with diabetes are living longer, healthier lives, with lower risks for life-threatening complications.

JDRF continues to be the leading global organization focused on T1D research. Thanks to JDRF's influence and leadership, the pace of diabetes research advancements continue to accelerate and thanks to you, we are poised to accomplish even more.

Sincerely,

Dave Prowten
President and CEO
JDRF
