Dear Friends of the Mustard Seed,

On behalf of The Mustard Seed and all those we serve, I would like to thank you for your generous donation and your commitment to helping people in need.

Your support this Christmas is not only providing meals but is giving the gift of hope, dignity, and care to those who need it most. Here at The Mustard Seed, we strive to create a place of belonging for people living in poverty, a place where people are known and cared for by name. Many of the people who arrive at our doors are looking for a community that supports them through their journey, that listens when they need someone to really hear them and that encourages them to seek change in their lives. Thank you for letting our community know that they are valued and that we believe in their potential.

During this time of Thanksgiving we are reminded of how grateful we are for you! Once again, thank you. With your support we can build community, grow hope and support change!

Your partner in changing lives,

Lyall M. Thomson, PhD
Chief Executive Officer
